Artist Series Pattern Collaboration: Where Creativity Meets Craftsmanship

Parasoleil has collaborated with an exceptionally talented group of artists to create a special collection of new patterns. Each artist, hailing from diverse backgrounds and styles, brings a unique perspective to pattern design. From abstract expressions to nature-inspired motifs, the series is a curated selection of designs that will transform a space and inspire those who experience it.

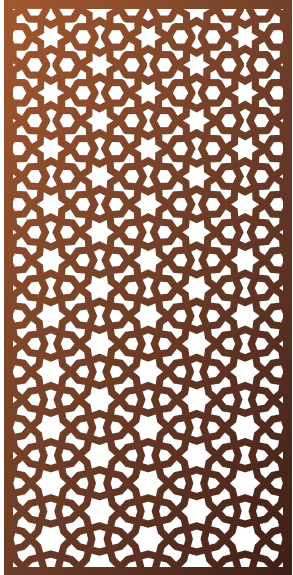

The visual impact of their work reflects the rich and deeply personal stories that shape their creative process. Drawing inspiration from these narratives, the artists explore and experiment with patterns—repeating, breaking, flowing, and playing with angles, curves, and dimensions to craft their own signature abstractions.

This collection showcases captivating patterns with a fresh wave of creativity and a new perspective for Parasoleil designs.

Imagine the impact in your next project.

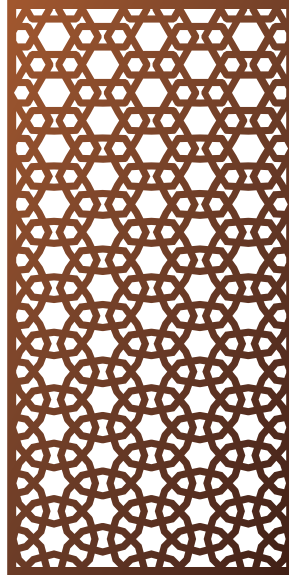

Ameet Hindocha

Ameet specializes in the creative exploration of geometry, with a particular focus on Islamic geometric design. As an artist, designer, and educator in the UK, he has numerous commissions and has an insatiable desire to explore and express the beauty of numbers visually.

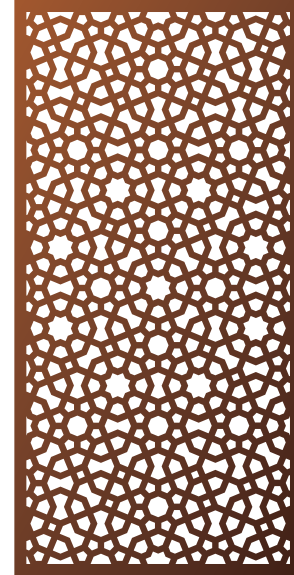

Metamorph[®]

Inspired by the Islamic star, this focal point dazzles with intricate geometry and endless symmetry.

Morphosis[®]

Hexagons meticulously interwoven to form a harmonious interplay of geometry and grace and evoke a sense of balance and tranquility.

Jaali[®]

A lattice of interwoven arches and star motifs, reminiscent of Mughal jali screens, where delicate stone filigree casts intricate shadows.

Misha Semenov Leiva

As an architect, urban designer, environmentalist, and researcher, he believes that design can reconnect humanity with nature. He is expounding his passion for design to change the way cities relate to the natural world through a new framework he calls ecoempathy.

Polypore®

Shelf mushrooms pop up everywhere and are portrayed by a very abstract forest scene covering trunks, branches, and fallen trees.

“... it’s very important that architects and scientists talk to each other so that design can be grounded in knowledge about nature. Architecture has the power to communicate ecology to people in a direct, emotionally moving way.”

Nervous System

Nervous System is a generative design studio that works at the intersection of science, art, and technology. Designers Jessica Rosenkrantz and Jesse Louis-Rosenberg draw their inspiration through science and nature, and then use mathematical models to generate patterns that bring nature's complexity into architectural spaces.

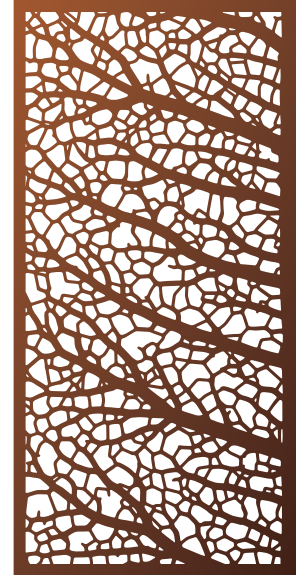

Cellular Flow®

A captivating display of interconnected cells reminiscent of nature's flowing water or plant tissues that blend art and science beautifully.

Arboreal I®

The natural intricate beauty of tree branches and foliage weave together organic lines and shapes, evoking the sense of a lush, leafy canopy.

Arboreal II®

The essence of nature, creating a serene and harmonious aesthetic that blends the elegance of the forest with a modern, stylish flair.

Penina Finger

Based in Portland, Oregon, Penina grew up immersed in design. She's traveled extensively, and developed her visual and written voice as an active member of an underground community of poets, artists, and musicians. Today, she designs elegant solutions for products and experiences that leverage emerging technologies.

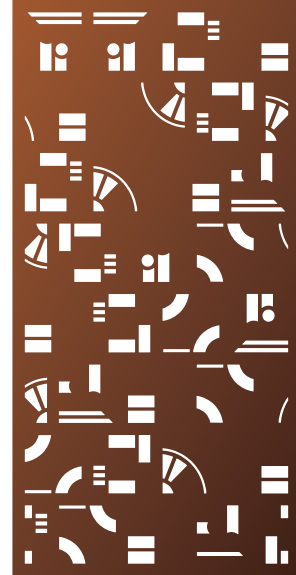

The Intercontinental®

Sophisticated with an art deco vibe, this dynamic interplay of global cultures symbolizes the vibrant energy of interconnected urban landscapes and architecture.

Metropolis®

Inspired by the vitality of a bustling urban landscape, it mimics grid-like streets and towering skyscrapers of a city skyline.

Night Life®

Feel the midnight pulse with this rhythmic interaction of darkness and a hint of sparkle in the city lights against the night sky.

Rae Ripple

Rae is a world-renowned visionary metal artist, published author, keynote speaker, and stunt rider. She is a passionate advocate for the trades with a deep-rooted commitment to traditional craftsmanship and innovation. Rae's work in metal art captivates and inspires.

Allure®

A reflection of the lovely women standing under beautiful archways. The allure of the flowers gives a rooted local feel.

Dan di Lion®

Float on a gentle breeze, letting dandelion seeds scatter as shadows of resilience and strength capture new beginnings.

Fleurs Rose®

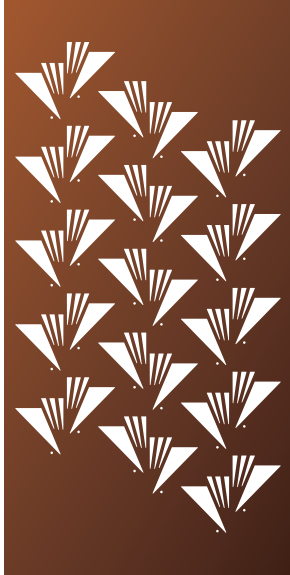

Passion for flowers runs deeper than a rose—it's a romance with their shapes and the shadows they cast under the midday sun.

Sandra Fettingis

Known for her iconic, abstract geometric style, Sandra Fettingis specializes in crafting timeless, site-specific patterns for national public art projects. Blending art with both built and natural environments, Sandra meticulously examines each space to achieve a harmonious and purposeful integration.

Deco Stream®

Sleek, flowing lines evoke the glamour of the Roaring Twenties, blending timeless sophistication with contemporary flair.

Creative Moment®

The dynamic interplay of sharp angles and striking triangles create a captivating visual rhythm that keeps the eye constantly engaged.

Floral Flow®

Each facet conveys the delicate, rhythmic movement of petals unfurling and seeds scattering with a bright angular spirit.

Ginkgo Spread®

The timeless beauty of the ancient Ginkgo's fan-shaped leaves marries up with a modern, and inviting contemporary graphic twist.

Shown: Floral Flow

Sukanya Mani

Her work centers around the emotional, social, and existential impact of culture in women's lives, and responds to society's gaze on women's realities. Her work dwells in the contemplation of the invisible, where light, shadow, text and technology come together to create new meanings.

Drift®

Raindrops radiating from a single point, setting off a chain reaction that creates a mesmerizing, mirage-like composition across a pond's surface.

Migration®

The global migration creates a powerful link between immigrant and resident cultures, celebrating the dynamic flow of people and ideas.

Ultimately, through the delicate manipulation of space, the artist seeks to evoke empathy, spark conversations, and inspiration.”

Virgil Ortiz

With a career spanning four decades, Virgil's artistry extends across various media and boundaries—challenging societal expectations and breaking taboos. Raised in a creative environment filled with storytelling, collecting clay, gathering wild plants, and producing figurative pottery, he remains influenced by his grandmother and mother, renowned Cochiti Pueblo potters.

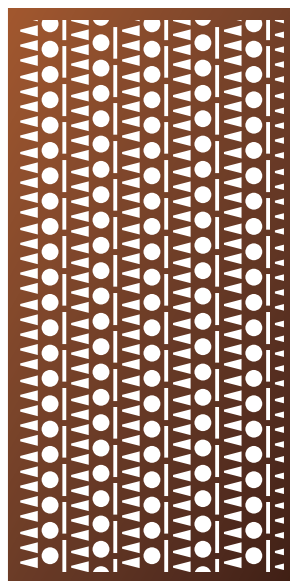

Wild Spinach®

Rooted in tradition, the black paint from a time-honored process breathes life into every brushstroke, connecting to our Pueblo heritage.

Rez Spine®

A stepladder emerging from a kiva – a portal to the next life with inspiration to remain resilient and intent on achieving lifelong dreams.

Sun-Moon-Kiva Steps®

The harmonious blend of celestial bodies and ancient Southwestern architecture with a sense of connection to the earth and sky.

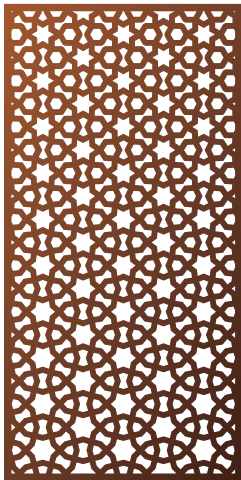

V-Maze®

The chaotic journey of cancer research and the constant struggle for a cure. Driven by collective strength, there is promise.

The Artist Series brought together three exclusive elements to create a certain magic.

Parasoleil's mastery of patterns and their integration of art and science set the foundation. The unique insights gained from the Pattern Map, coupled with automated engineering, render adaptive design both captivating and approachable.

Add to this a diverse and exceptionally talented group of artists, whose expanded range of professional expression bridges grand sculptural visions with practical innovation, making monumental art accessible in our product line of structural systems and applications.

Yet, the true alchemy of the artist series lies in the collaboration with visionary architects and developers to transform this beautiful abstract idea into tangible assets, enriching our communities.

Now, let's celebrate the synergy that happens when vision, creativity, and collaboration converge to create a profound impact.
